

Policy Statement

At Silverstone, we are committed to protecting the privacy and confidentiality of our clients' and employees' data, including intellectual property. This Privacy Policy outlines how we collect, use, store, and disclose your personal and intellectual information in accordance with the Privacy Act 1988 (Cth) and the Australian Privacy Principles (APPs).

Key Principles and Commitments

Collection of Data:

- We only collect personal and intellectual property data that is necessary to carry out legitimate business purposes.
- Data may be collected through various channels, such as online forms, contracts, correspondence, and interactions with our website or personnel.

How We Use Your Information:

- Personal and intellectual property data is used only for specific purposes for which it was collected, as outlined at the time of collection, or as otherwise permitted by law.
- Data may be used for purposes such as fulfilling contractual obligations, managing employee records, improving our services, and protecting our intellectual property rights.

Disclosure of Information:

- We do not disclose personal or intellectual property data to third parties except as necessary to fulfill legal obligations, provide services, or protect our rights and interests.
- We may disclose data to trusted service providers, contractors, or regulatory authorities, but only to the extent necessary and with appropriate safeguards in place to protect confidentiality.

Data Security:

- We take all reasonable steps to protect your information from misuse, loss, unauthorised access, modification or disclosure.
- Access to data is restricted to authorised personnel who have a legitimate need to access it for business purposes.

Access and Correction:

- You may request access to your personal information or request corrections, subject to legal requirements and limitations, if the data is inaccurate or outdated by contacting safety@sstone.com.au.

Consent:

By engaging with Silverstone, clients and employees consent to the collection, use, and disclosure of their personal and intellectual property and data as outlined in this Privacy Policy.

Silverstone may update or revise this Privacy Policy as needed to reflect changes in legislation, technology, or business practices. Any updates will be communicated to affected individuals in a timely manner.
